NOTEWORTHY NEWS FROM WILLS

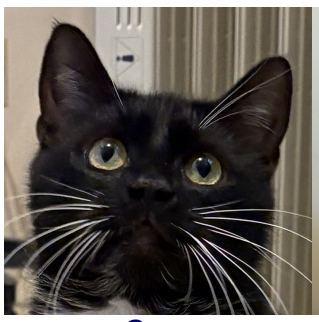

How you doin'?

Happy August! And now that you've figured out that I figured out it's a new month, I'm real pleased to let y'all know 'bout our kitties who went home since I wrote to you 'bout three weeks ago. I know, I know … it's been a long time. But I finally got my assistant back on track, and we're happy to catch y'all up on the latest!

On July 18, Oreo left the building for her new home. Y'all prob'ly remember her from "Oreo Isn't Just a Cookie," my column a couple months ago. And on July 25 ALL the kittens in the A1 kitten room went home! Sophie and Salish went home together, and Oly and Olyvia took Sally with them to their new home!

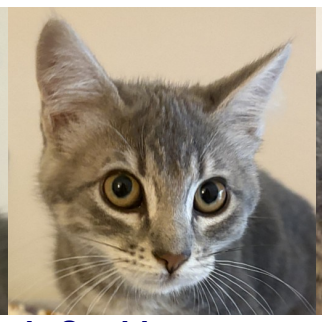

That was quite a Saturday!

And here's the photos to go 'long with our adopted kitties list:

And now I'd like to give you an update on a pair of grrreat kits. I first introduced you to them a few months ago in my column "A Real Cool Trio" when they arrived with their brother, Peter. You might recall that Peter was the most outgoing of the three, and it didn't take too long for him to find his furrever home. And that left … you guessed it … Paul and Mary to find their home together. And 'cause they were real shy when they first came to Safe Haven, it took them a bit longer.

Paul is real gentle and kinda sensitive and shy at first. He pretty much relies on his sister, Mary, who sticks with him and gives him lotsa love and support. And Mary is also kinda shy and wasn't gonna even consider looking for her new home without her bro. But now the two of them are in a playroom with two very confident, easy-going cats, and the grrreat thing is that their new roomies are having a real positive effect on Paul and Mary. They are now coming out from their safe spaces and starting to explore their new digs. They lounge in the catio with their friends during the day and are lined up at the door at mealtime.

I do hafta say that they are both still pretty shy, 'specially Paul, but I'm thinking this'll change when they get into their own home and get to bond with their new family and explore their new digs. So if y'all would like to meet Paul and Mary, just give us a call for a meet 'n greet appointment, and come on down! I purrsonally guarantee it'll be a grrreat experience. And don't forget that I'm the official hall monitor and visitor-greeter, so be sure to stop and say "howdy!"

And … if y'all look on my web page, there's a video—it's titled "Peter, Paul & Mary." I bet that's easy to 'member!

Thanks for listening!

p.s. We are running low on FortiFlora. In case y'all have no idea what we're talking about, it's a pre– and probiotic supplement, and it's real good for kits who are on antibiotics and other meds and helps them get regular. If y'all know what I mean! And I have it on the best authority that it's available at both Chewy.com and Amazon.
